

Time to register! Bringing life to public spaces with Light Art

 Turin - 2-3 Nov 2023

The "Bringing life to public spaces with Light Art" conference is the culmination of the 3-year project #LAiPS (Light & Art in Public Spaces) co-funded by the EU. It aims to share the knowledge collected by the partners and explore further the benefits and challenges of light & art for cities. City representatives, artists and professionals from all the urban lighting field are invited to join us on 2-3 November 2023 in Turin!

To raise awareness about light art and make it more accessible, the project partners developed a new digital tool. The Light & Art Map will be publicly revealed during the LAiPS final conference.  Check out the video for a sneak peak!

CITIES IN ACTION

Montpellier approves the Declaration on the Future of Urban Lighting

The Declaration on the Future of Urban Lighting was presented to the Metropolitan Council in July, which passed a resolution approving LUCI's Declaration; and to ensure that the city's next Lighting Plan is consistent with this Declaration. More info >>

Cities tackling the energy crisis

Faced by an unprecedented energy crisis, cities are multiplying initiatives to tackle any energy shortages in winter, while accelerating their ecological transition. During fall 2022, LUCI launched a quick survey to understand how some cities from its network are addressing this acute challenge. More info >>

SEEN IN THE NEWS

Dark Skies – Stop blaming the street lighting

There is a wide range of artificial lighting installations that impact on the outdoor environment at night, and it is disappointing that most of the discussion and finger pointing unfairly focuses on the street lighting sector. Read more on insite.ipwea.org >>
